Photo by Doug Von Gausig

Once a thriving mining economy with all the amenities of a late 19th & early 20th century western boom town, Jerome recovered from its post WWII bust period to become once again an exciting recreation, tourism, and arts destination center in the Verde Valley. Built on the side of Cleopatra Hill at 5200ft elevation on the outer rim of the Verde Valley between Clarkdale and Prescott Valley, Jerome is a must see tourism stop of the Verde Valley experience.
